Graphics Software Like Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator is a pen-plotting program that has advanced features for graphics work. Adobe Illustrator is my preferred graphics software because I love how easy it is to switch from line to graphics styles and shapes, and I find the automatic paths much easier to work with than Photoshop's complicated vector shapes. Illustrator's lower price and ease of use make it a better choice for beginners. _Adobe InDesign_ is a graphic authoring program to help layout and create print materials for magazines and newspapers. When clicking on a link, I get the wrong page selected. Instead of the first link that I clicked on, it goes to the second. It seems to be related to the text-view that is used. I read something about that this is a common bug with text-views, but I can't really find a solution. I set the textview clickable to true, and I have set for all the views inside the webview by adding android:clickable="true" This seems to work, but I know that there must be a better way, preferably if the links could be selected automatically with a click inside the text-view, but I don't know how. The page I am trying to open looks like this: This is the code of the WebView in my java file: web = (WebView) findViewById(R.id.main_webview); web.loadUrl(""); I think that probably there is some basic mistake, but as I said I don't know what it is, so I am not able to debug it. I know that I can try many code examples, but I think that the problem is pretty simple, and maybe there are the answers of someone who have read my question before. Thank you in advance. A: Try using this method to set a TextView as link. private TextView setTextAsLink(TextView textView, String url) { URLSpan[] spans = textView.getSpans(0, textView.get

Q: Stop a handler from being interrupted I'm trying to work with the quadcopter example here I'm trying to run my own c# project that I want to control the motor's directly. As you can see when you run the example, the motor is being run forever and is unable to be stopped, if you run it more than once. The tutorial I'm trying to work with is here At line 32 in the source.cs file they add to the newly created object, a Handler. I've made the handler but if I press stop nothing happens. I've read that a thread should be sleeping, but I don't see why, and also I'm not familiar with C# threads. The code: using System; using System.Collections.Generic; using System.Linq; using System.Text; using System.Threading.Tasks; using System.Diagnostics; using System.IO.Ports; using System.Collections; namespace RasPovr_Copter { class Program { static void Main(string[] args) { PingServer(); while (true) { Thread.Sleep(250); Write("Hello world"); //Create a new object and add a handler. This will catch any incoming messages RasPovr_Copter roc = new RasPovr_Copter(); HttpRequestHandler handler = new HttpRequestHandler(roc); //Run this thread. new Thread(new ThreadStart(() => { handler.Start(); })).Start();
