14. In the Black & White Adjustment window, choose Best for Print. The image is now dark. To lighten it again, choose Best for Web. 15. *In the Lens Correction section, choose None and click OK

SCHOLARSHIPS2018 - 2019
Financial Aid Q: Is there anything I have to pay out of my own pocket?A: Partial scholarships include a contribution of all educational expenses unless otherwise stated, including: tuition and/or room and board, fees, books and supplies, the Federal Pell Grant, and high-cost medical and disability-related insurance. Q: What's the difference between full and partial scholarships? A: There's a big difference between a full and a partial scholarship. Full scholarship: The full scholarship covers 100% of the school's tuition, fees, and books. (No high-cost medical or disability insurance is provided on a full scholarship, and usually no contributions are required.)

Partial scholarship: The partial scholarship covers tuition, most fees, and books. You still pay for your own insurance.

Q: What happens if I graduate early? A:

You won't need to worry about graduation fees.

Q: What if I enroll in a less expensive school and then decide to transfer? A:

You're eligible to apply for non-need-based financial aid to cover the cost of attending a new school. However, you won't be eligible for need-based aid at your new school. Q: How do I receive my award? A: Your financial aid award will be sent to the school of your choice after the award season has ended. This is usually in October of each year. It will be sent to your school using the same method as your federal student aid award. Be sure to visit a school's financial aid webpage for information. Q: How will my scholarships and federal aid be applied? A: Your total financial aid award will be applied as follows: 1) your four Pell Grants; 2) your parent loans, if any; 3) your two Stafford Loans; and 4) any remainder of your scholarship award.

StudentAidNet is one of the nation's leading scholarship search providers, publishing free searchable scholarship databases to colleges and universities across the country.
