I have ready this a lot of games but this game is best. Thanks to this game i started now my life. I am playing this game to pass my time. I am using xp 32bit it gets slow when i save or load. How can i increase my pc speed? The team gives the impression of being very serious, with some players you know off a long time (Balo, Werdum, Cassibry, Crippler) which makes you feel good. What do you think of the team's look? Is there any news of a new version?As it is my first FPS I can not say anything about the game, although I think I will enjoy it. I would suggest a major overhaul in multiplayer. We are still stuck with 1 versus 2 same size maps. You can have 3 smaller maps from 1:1,2:1,2:2 but as soon as you want 3 on 3 this doesn't work for several reasons: You have to build your own maps, which means every person has a lot to do. We also don't have a server browser. We also have no one broadcasting and there are no equal teams so the competition is weak. As everything has to be built from scratch it is rather hard to get people to cooperate at the same time. Also we are stuck with 3 players per team for the duration of the game. If someone drops it is always 2 on 1 for the whole match. We need some kind of team based matchmaking. While I am at it there are also game modes that are not possible, at least when you play competitively. All the only ones I have seen are team death match and team flag. Why isn't there a capture the flag mode with flags and the like? A few friends of mine want to play another game, I am going to ask what it is, this might be interesting, just a thought... PS. I play a lot of games, CS:GO, BF3, Cities Skylines (personal favorite) and that's not all. I play almost anything, to be honest I am pretty good at games. I'm surprised nobody has said this yet but I loved how CM0102 felt about it's community. There were plenty of issues addressed and even a workshop. The community aspect was really appreciated because that is what made CM0102 great in the first place. That's what i loved the most about
